30 years of LR Health & Beauty

30 years of innovations, progress and growth. Along the way, we encountered new faces, different cultures and many challenges. Today, LR is one of Europe's leading suppliers of Aloe Vera products - THE Aloe Vera Company.

But one thing never changed: our aim to enhance peoples' quality of life – all over the world. For instance, through our premium health products "Made in Germany". For the manufacture of these products, LR exclusively uses selected raw materials and takes special care to preserve the active ingredients. Anything less than "excellent" quality is out of question for us. This is also confirmed by, among others, SGS INSTITUT FRESENIUS.

An enhanced quality of life can also be achieved by taking the unique opportunity to become a successful independent LR partner. Many people have already seized this opportunity - and are now part of the LR family which has grown to over 300,000 partners worldwide.

With this Collection 2015, you hold 30 years of well-being competence in your hands - from the popular Aloe Vera Drinking Gels through to competent skin care. You, too, should place your trust in many years of experience and top class quality.

Sincerely Yours

Dr Jens M Abend

Aloe Vera Drinking Gel Honey – Health with Tradition

Hardly any other natural product has had so much insight worldwide than the 1000 year old tradition of the Aloe Vera. Whether it's the Mexican Aztecs, the pharaohs of ancient Egypt or Carl the Great on his numerous trips and crusades – they all valued and cherished the constitutional benefits and properties of Aloe Vera.

In developing the first Aloe Vera Drinking Gel LR adopted the example of the traditional and original recipe from the Brazilian Franciscan monk Father Romano Zago. In this he described the combination of the Aloe Vera Gel and pure blossom honey as valuable. LR has further optimized this recipe with new scientific developments – there own unique result: the Aloe Vera Drinking Gel Honey!

Aloe Vera cultivation

Mexican highlands

Controlled cultivation and manufacturing

Each year 23 million Aloe Vera leaves are harvested for LR. They are exclusively grown in Mexico's highlands in order to ensure the very best growing conditions. The cultivation is successfully completed without the application of fertilisers, pesticides or other chemicals! For cultivation we refrain completely from using pesticides.

Sabine Larsen-Vefring

Director Product Development & Quality Control Nutrition

Consistent Quality Controls

Nothing is more important to LR than quality and on this we can always guarantee you. LR occupies one of the most modern specialized laboratories for nutritional and dietary supplements and in any one year over 32.000 single inspections are undertaken. Additionally LR undertakes external quality checks from one of the strictest testing institutes on the market for monitoring and certification i.e. SGS INSTITUTE FRESENIUS, IASC (International Aloe Science Council) and Institute Dermatest®.

Science and research

Scientific research and development is the ground work for all innovative products and concepts. In order to be a forerunner in the field of new scientific and research developments, LR invests a lot of time and money in this. In order to protect these research findings, LR has submitted applications for many of the new products and manufacturing processes for patent applications.

Aloe Vera Drinking Gel Peach – Why no added sugars?

The Aloe Vera Drinking Gel Peach has absolutely no additives from sugar of any type. This is great for everyone. Diabetics for example need to be aware of their daily sugar intake and maintain consistent blood sugar levels as well as many other people who are advised not to consume too much sugar. It is for this target group that LR has developed the Aloe Vera Drinking Gel Peach.

Acemannan – valuable and important

One of the most important materials in the gel of the Aloe Vera is acemannan. This matter belongs to the polysaccharides family and is stored within the bodies cells. Acemannan develops its beneficial properties together with the other multitude of substances of the Aloe Vera.

The treasure chest of Nature

Nature offers us such a diverse range and choice of micro-nutrients that help to protect and support our overall health. LR helps you to use this!

Stinging Nettle extract

Stinging Nettle leaves are well known for their high concentration of natural silicon. Silicon is an important trace element and essential for our bodies. "Essential" means that this substance must be delivered through nutrition into the body as it is not manufactured.

EPA (fatty acids)

EPA is a multi unsaturated fatty acid that belongs to the Omega 3 fatty acid family. Together with other nutrients it is responsible for many processes within the body and in particular it helps to support the health of the heart. Fish, in particular lipid-rich cold water fish such as tuna, mackerel and sardines, contain valuable eicosapentaenoic acid.

DHA (fatty acids)

DHA is like EPA a polyunsaturated Omega-3 fatty acid. Just like EPA, DHA plays an important role in the health and heart function. It is recommended at least 250 mg per day is taken. DHA is also essential for our brain and our nerve cells. 97% of DHA consist of Omega 3 fatty acids in our brain

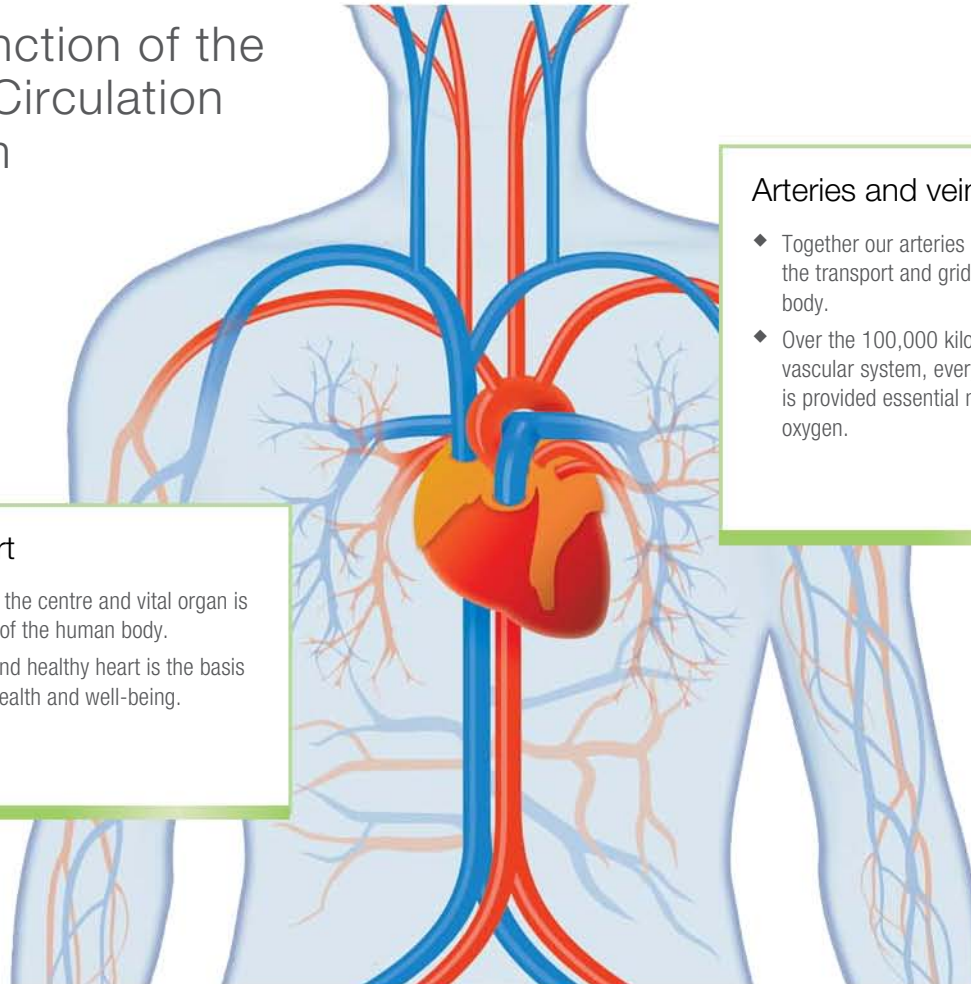

Sustainable Fishing

Today overfishing of the sea is an extremely important issue to be recognized and responsible and sustainable fishing must be adopted. LR ensures that all their fishing for omega 3 fatty acids including mackerel, sardine and tuna fish is exclusively farmed from sustainable fisheries from the South American pacific region. This is independently certified with the official quality seal "Friend of the Sea,,"

Look after the health of your heart!

The function of the Heart-Circulation System

The Heart

- ◆ The heart, the centre and vital organ is the motor of the human body.
- ◆ A strong and healthy heart is the basis for good health and well-being.

Arteries and veins

- ◆ Together our arteries and veins are the transport and grid network of our body.
- ◆ Over the 100,000 kilometer long vascular system, every cell in the body is provided essential nutrients and oxygen.

The heart-circulation system

Good for the heart

It doesn't take much to actively support your cardiovascular system. Regular exercise and a balanced diet are the key. Essential nutrients such as omega-3 fatty acids from fatty saltwater fish contribute further to a healthy heart function.

The joints

A complicated master piece from Nature

In order for our musculoskeletal system and our joints to function well it is very important that they receive adequate supplies of micro-nutrients – especially when the body is under any type of stress!

Movement:

The key to health and satisfaction

Official studies show, that we clearly don't exercise enough. Not only is this detrimental to our fitness levels, but also to our overall health and well being.

FITNESS

To stay fit it is important that you regularly exercise. However with this extra stress on your body it is important to avoid excessive or over straining your body and to help with this you can supplement with micro nutrients to help support your body.

PREVENTION

Our joints are constantly in movement and this movement requires essential nutrients to ensure that the joint muscles are continually lubricated. If this is not suffice, degeneration of the joints may occur.

WELL-BEING

It is well known that regular exercise and movement helps to improve your overall well-being. As well as sport you can do everyday things. for example, take the stairs instead of the lift or escalators, walk instead of driving. It is also important to be aware of your micro-nutrients for your joints!

Colostrum

A miracle from nature

„Colostrum from LR is a processed premium product. And as with all natural raw materials can be subjected to normal variations. This may have some impact on the taste or the consistency of the product. However this has no impact or value on the quality or the contents of the product. This LR guarantees through the ongoing and regular testings and controls undertaken for example by SGS Institute Fresenius.“

Control Nutrition

INSTITUTE FRESENIUS Quality Seal

The INSTITUTE FRESENIUS Quality Seal is one of the hardest seals of approval on the market. Together with LR's own quality control team, SGS INSTITUTE FRESENIUS oversees the manufacturing of the LR Colostrum products. From the first step of the raw colostrum, the manufacturing and through to the last step each stage is continually oversighted.

Quality made in Germany

Colostrum is not all the same Colostrum! The quality of the LR Colostrum is of the highest quality, each manufacturing stage is undertaken in Germany and is extensively controlled.

1. CONTROL: Raw materials – quality

LR exclusively uses Colostrum from the first hours from cows in Germany. Only surplus Colostrum is collected and extensively tested. Every production and farm is completely traceable!

2. CONTROL: Manufacturing – Quality

The total manufacturing process of the raw Colostrum is managed under strict controls by LR. Every step of this process is subject to regular controls and oversights including independent audits e.g. SGS INSTITUTE FRESENIUS of the manufacturing sites.

3. CONTROL: Quality of the finished product

Every production line is comprehensively examined by LR – including micro-biological and physical parameters to ensure the concentration and quality of the materials. This is also carried out by independent body's including SGS INSTITUTE FRESENIUS who conduct regular and random independent laboratory analysis and tests

Dental Program at home

Our mouth is a living room for many different bacteria (microorganisms) which sit firmly on the roof of the mouth and multiply. As a result, sugars and left over foods are metabolised into acidity by these microorganisms which can lead to toothache and tooth decay. Microsilver Plus Toothpaste helps to remove these bacteria which are responsible for gum disease, cavities and bad breath.

Dental care:

- ✚ Dental prevention
- ✚ remove microorganisms
- ✚ Against bad breath
- ✚ Hydroxyapatite repairs tooth enamel

Certified Effectiveness:

90% certified that their gums were more settled*

*antibacterial toothpaste was tested on 10 males and females in the age group from 18 to 72 years of age through the Dermatest GmbH over a 4 week period in April 2006.

proven effectiveness against skin impurities

FACE

Blemished impure skin is often a result of an overproduction of the sebaceous glands in the skin. When the sebaceous glands are blocked they become the ideal conditions for the production of microorganisms. Microsilver Plus Face Care Products effectively clean the skin of unwanted bacteria.

BODY

proven help for irritated skin

The skin is the largest organ of the human body that is in direct contact with the outside environment. It protects the inner organs from drying out and acts as a barrier against pathogens. Dry, stressed skin is more easily to tear and appear flaky and is more vulnerable to the penetration of bacteria.

ECTOIN® in the MICROSILVER PLUS Universal Cream helps strengthen the skin barrier. Intensively nourishes the skin with moisture.
